Capt. Young Brings Word from Bay of Islands.

Capt. Jacobs Has Gone to Fortune Bay.

Capt. Charles Young arrived home from Bay of Islands, N. F., this morning, coming by steamer to Sydney, C. B., and thence here by rail. Capt. Young reports having been at the North Arm superintending the loading of his two vessels, schs. Dauntless and A. E. Whyland. The herring were never so late before in striking in and when he left, were as scarce as he ever saw them there. Previous to this there had been fairly good fishing. The herring had not been in the Arms at all, but were out in deep water.

Up to the time he left for home, Wednesday, the following vessels had loaded and sailed since the season opened: Schs. Independence, Orpheus, Claudia, Nourmahal, Nettie Franklin, Dauntless, Harry A. Nickerson and Bessie M. Devine.

Capt. Young thought that sch. A. E. Whyland would be loaded and ready to sail today. There had not been a sign of frost when he left.

Steamer Alice M. Jacobs is at Fortune Bay, N. F., having gone there direct from North Sydney, C. B.

A telegram received yesterday from Bay of Islands, N. F., reports that since last Friday the nets had not been hauled on account of bad weather.
